THEATRE

The major in Theatre offers a comprehensive foundation on which students can pursue graduate work or begin building a professional career. The major is distinguished by the variety of courses available in performance, design, technology, history and literature. Equally important are the many opportunities available for students to engage what they learn in the classroom to theatre production. This experiential approach is essential to the success of the theatre student.

■ Courses

111 Introduction to Theatre A course for the general student designed to introduce the various elements of theatrical production.

113 Introduction to Theatre Design A study of design elements and composition principles as they relate to stage scenery, costumes and lighting. A survey of theatre design today.

131, 132 Stagecraft Theories and techniques of designing, building, painting and lighting stage settings; organization and operation of production crews. Laboratory.

211, 212 Dramatic Literature The reading and discussion of selected plays and of theatrical developments as an introduction to the theatre.

214 Themes in Contemporary Drama Themes in contemporary dramatic literature. Topic varies.

218 Voice and Body Movement Voice and body training to improve vocal quality, articulation, posture and carriage.

225, 226 Summer Workshop An intensive course focused on the production of plays and musicals for the student interested in developing professional skills. Cross listed as Dance 225, 226.

240 Stage Makeup Techniques and styles of stage makeup for theatre and dance.
