

Self Portrait

When he was seventeen Gari Melchers entered art school. There he learned to paint portraits. A portrait is a picture of a person. People became his favorite subject. He worked very hard and practiced many hours a day. Finally, when he completed his studies, it was time to go out in the world and look for something special to paint.